This is smokestack of McCarter Shingle Co., Ltd., 2418 Rock Bay Avenue. Residents claim there has been no improvement in north-end smoke problem.

This is B.C. Forest Products Ltd. chimney, Garbally Road. Several mill operators contend they are spending money to reduce smoke and cinders.

This is stack of Economy Steam Laundry, 607 John Street. Downtown laundries have been included in the public's complaint.

This is Horton Cedar Manufacturing Co., Ltd., Point Ellice. City authorities are hoping mill operators will co-operate to abate nuisance.

Red Cycle Brigade Sparks Iran Riots

TEHRAN, Iran, July 6 (AP)—A big bicycle brigade of pro-Communist students demonstrating against the international Court's decision on Iran's oil nationalization fought with members of the Iranian labor party in downtown Tehran today. About 100 persons were injured.

While loudspeakers blared such slogans as "Death to Anglo-American imperialism" and "Death to the Hague Court," the bicyclists sped in groups to various sections of the city, where they clashed with labor party members. The latter shouted "Death to the Communists."

The fighting began with fists, sticks, knives, and free branches, and before long many on both sides fell with broken arms and legs and smashed heads. Police, wielding clubs, finally restored order.

One battle between the pro-Red demonstrators and the labor party, an offshoot of the governing national front, occurred on Ferodweli Avenue, near the hospital of the National Bank of Iran, where Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi is recovering from an appendectomy.

While these bloody clashes were occurring at the capital, other Iranians demonstrated without violence against the international Court decision at Abadan, big oil refinery centre. Goose-stepping government troops staged a full-dress parade.

Crowds jammed the line of march and shrieked approval as Sherman tanks, armored cars and motorized artillery rolled past with most of their old United States markings still showing. Almost the whole 10th Division which guards the Khuzistan oil fields paraded. Iranian and British warships off Abadan continued watching one another on the Shatt el Arab estuary at the head of the Persian Gulf. The British cruiser Mauritius is on the Iraqi side of the channel, a short distance from the refinery.

The government radio said the interior ministry will not let Eric Drake, the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's general manager, re-enter the country. Drake shifted his office to Basra, across the river in Iraq, after being accused of sabotage.

New Pension Forms Expected Next Week

Registration forms for the federal government's new universal old-age pension scheme are expected to be ready for distribution next week.

Registration in this area cannot begin until the forms reach Victoria.

Officials said when the forms arrive they would be available at the post office and probably at the family allowances office. Forms should be available at up-land post offices.

All persons 70 years of age and over will be eligible to register and will receive a federal pension of $40 a month regardless of means. First of these pensions will be paid next January. Under the new scheme, the provinces will pay a similar pen-

Division Unaffected By Truce

TOKYO, July 7 (Saturday) (Reuters).—The possibility of an armistice in Korea will have no effect on formation of the first British Commonwealth Division, a Commonwealth military official said today.

He said staff arrangements for the division are virtually complete. The division will be commanded by Major-Gen. A. J. H. Cassels.

In the event of a cease-fire it would serve in Korea as long as necessary, the military spokesman said.

Army to Build At Port Moody

VANCOUVER, July 6 (CP)—Establishment of a major west coast troop training area at Port Moody with deep-sea facilities is reported to be under consideration by the federal government as part of the national defense program.

Plans are expected to call for purchase of from 50 to 100 acres of Port Moody, 12 miles east of Vancouver, dredging of the waterfront and construction of dock facilities.

Long-range plans call for removal of the entire army establishment from Jericho.

Beer Parlor Ordered Shut

VANCOUVER, July 6 (CP)—The Lotus Hotel beer parlor tonight was ordered closed for seven days on instructions from Liquor Commissioner W. F. Kennedy.

The shutdown followed the conviction of five bookmakers for making book in beer parlors.

Victoria May Be Royal Rest Stop; Indians Seeking Role in Welcome

With a royal flush of excitement settling into pleased anticipation, all Canada was formulating plans today for the visit of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip to this country next fall.

It was definitely established yesterday the Royal couple would visit Victoria—possibly for longer than the originally suggested two days.

A London report said Elizabeth was anxious to see the west coast and in Ottawa it was believed the visitors would make this city a rest stop.

They will most likely cross the Atlantic in a Canadian Pacific liner, possibly the Empress of France, a spokesman for the Princess announced yesterday.

SHIP SCHEDULE

The Empress of France sails September 25, the Empress of Canada a week later.

The local picture was given added color yesterday when Vancouver Island Indians started beating the tom-toms for a larger part in prospective welcoming ceremonies.

Mayor Voices Concern Over Smoke Abatement

The continual smoke and cinder nuisance in the city's northend must be reduced, Mayor Percy George said yesterday.

Speaking in the absence of Ald. Frank Mulliner, fire wardens' chairman, Mayor George said:

"I am deeply concerned about this problem. I know the smoke can't be completely abolished, but I certainly hope the operators are making every effort to reduce the smoke and cinders."

Explaining that he was in eastern Canada when a conference of fire wardens and mill operators was held, Mayor George said he was adding his request to those already made by Ald. Mulliner's committee.

"I hope the operators will co-operate, because I have no desire for the city to find itself in the position whereby it has to force the issue by framing stronger regulations or taking court action," said the chief magistrate.

He said he was in complete agreement with Ald. Mulliner's committee, which has told the operators they must improve conditions or expect a stiffer by-law.

"I have visited the homes of residents of the northern part of the city and know their complaint," said Mayor George. "At the same time, though, I am not unmindful of the importance of industry."

While residents contend the situation hasn't improved at all since the smoke conference at City Hall, the mill operators have pointed out that the necessary equipment needed to abate smoke and cinders can't be installed instantly. Some mill owners thought there had been some improvement recently.

Ald. Mulliner and Ald. Aubrey Kent have expressed dissatisfaction with the showing so far. Fire Chief R. T. Brindle thought mill owners are being more careful but there is still room for improvement.

Pact-Signing Parley Set for September 4

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—The United States expects to issue invitations late this month to about 50 countries to attend a Japanese peace treaty-signing conference in San Francisco opening September 4.

Officials said the invitations are expected to be sponsored jointly by the United States and Britain and will go to all countries which were and technically still are at war with Japan.

The sessions, lasting about four days, will be held in the Opera House where the United Nations charter was signed in 1945.

PURELY FORMAL

The meeting will be purely formal because the plan is to iron out all peace-treaty issues before the conference. Nearly all important issues have already been eliminated by agreement or compromise and no hitch is seen by officials here in winding up the signing very quickly.

Russia has never agreed to go along either with the American method of negotiating a treaty through diplomatic channels such as Dulles has employed or with the substance of the treaty as it now stands.

City Widow Pays Back $1,000 Aid

A social welfare committee meeting was brightened yesterday by reading of a letter from a grateful old lady.

She enclosed a check for nearly $1,000, explaining it was the amount she and her husband received from the city in social assistance payments. Her husband has since died.

Times had been difficult for her but now the future looked brighter. She had received some money unexpectedly and wanted to repay the city.

"After receiving the money my first thought was to return what we actually received from you in our time of need. I assure you I shall walk on our streets with a much freer step with that much off my mind," the lady wrote.

On the suggestion of Ald. Aubrey Kent, Mayor Percy E. George will be asked to write a letter of thanks to the woman.

The Van Doo's? On Ne Sait Pas

With the Canadian Forces WEST SECTOR, KOREA, July 6 (CP).—A brisk fire fight developed today between a United Nations patrolling force and Chinese dug into hilltop positions well north of the Choswon area.

The U.N. troops—whose mother tongue is not English—had almost reached the top of the position before the enemy disclosed his presence.

Bakeries Cut Store Supplies

WINNIPEG, July 6 (CP).—Four large Winnipeg bakeries today decided to cut off deliveries to a chain of stores which cut the price of bread from two loaves for 25 cents to two loaves for 23 cents.

The action was taken after driver-salesmen of the Canadian Bakery Workers Union, Local No. 1, were ordered by the union to discontinue supplies to Jewel Fine Foods.

A letter to the drivers from general secretary G. Robinson of the union said the price cut by Jewel stores had brought similar cuts in other stores, "thereby jeopardizing the earning capacity of our salesmen."

Chinese Raise Fund for Troops

VANCOUVER, July 6 (CP).—Canadian Chinese veterans of the Second World War have raised $7,000 in two weeks toward providing comforts for Canadian troops in Korea.

Angry When Sleep Disturbed

No Opportunity Lost by Small Prince To Demonstrate Pride in Sister Anne

This is one of a series of articles in The Colonist telling of the happy marriage of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

By COLIN FRANK

The lad born to be King, Prince Charles of Edinburgh, is now two-and-a-half. He rules a kingdom composed of two rooms at Clarence House.

He has one dutiful subject upon whom he can essay the arts of government—his sister, Princess Anne, now nine months.

So far he has not proved a despotic ruler—the reverse, in fact. His chief concern appears to be for the baby's welfare.

He is immensely proud of her and he views with a manly tolerance her habit of spending much time asleep and little time wide awake and ready for play.

His toys, including the long-

Envoys on Way To Peace Talks

Today's Meeting to Pave Way—More Definite Action Possible

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

TOKYO, July 7 (Saturday) (INS).—Allied and Communist truce envoys headed toward Kaesong today for preliminary peace talks that may swiftly expand to all the Korean battlefronts a limited cease-fire order already in effect.

Announced mission of both advance truce delegations is to prepare the way tomorrow for top-level cease-fire talks scheduled to start July 10. But the possibility that they may agree to stop the shooting at once could not be ruled out.

A 10-vehicle Communist truce convoy, protected by the first limited cease-fire of the Korean war, presumably left the Red capital of Pyongyang at 5 a.m. (noon P.D.T. Friday). No advance announcement of their departure had been expected.

The Red peace group, heading for the initial east-west truce meeting on the battlefield tomorrow, bounced along war-cratered roads in the 125-mile Pyongyang corridor leading to ancient Kaesong just below the 38th Parallel.

By prearrangement, Allied gunners and airmen held their fire in the 70-square-mile Kaesong area to assure safe passage for the Communist delegation traveling under white flags of truce.

A marine colonel and an air force colonel left Gen. Ridgway's headquarters this morning and flew to Pusan under circumstances that made it appear they were his envoys to Kaesong.

The Americans who left Tokyo today may pick up their Korean colleague in Pusan before proceeding to Seoul, where a helicopter awaits to fly them to Kaesong tomorrow morning.

Wonsan Hit; Ground War Still Light

TOKYO, July 7 (Saturday) (AP).—Allied warships and carrier planes yesterday smashed the Red's east Korean port of Wonsan—once proposed as an armistice meeting site—in one of the heaviest strikes of the war and left it ablaze.

North of Wonsan, nine Superforts unloaded 60 tons of high explosives on the railroad yards at Iwon. This raid was designed to cut off the flow of supplies to the enemy front lines.

The air and sea blows highlighted activity as the cease-fire conferences neared. Ground action was limited mainly to brisk patrolling and a few skirmishes.

The largest action was on the central front north of the 38th Parallel, where 1,000 enemy troops launched a limited action nine miles southeast of the Red base of Kumsong.

ALLABOARD

By G. E. Mortimore

A picture of an elderly Australian in the paper—recently seemed as odd to me as a purple cow.

Nearly all the Australians I have met have been airmen in their teens and twenties. I can't shake off the delusion that Australia is peopled entirely by airmen.

I can see young men in dark blue uniforms driving buses, serving behind shop counters, plowing the fields and asking for sixpence to buy a cup of coffee on the streets of Sydney.

And yet I have met a few middle-aged Australians and a few Australian girls in various parts of the world. I even have an aunt, uncle and a girl cousin in Australia. But I have never been there, and I obstinately keep a mental picture of my relations surrounded entirely by airmen. No girls. I can't visualize an Australian girl at all.

My wife, who comes from Bournemouth, nursed a similar delusion for years. She thought all clergymen were Englishmen.

When Canadians and Americans came to England during the war, she was eventually exposed to the voice of one who had taken holy orders. It hit her like a cold shower.

To my wife, a clergyman with an American accent sounded a shade irreverent. Perhaps there is something about the English voice which makes it suitable to uttering sonorous phrases of worship. And nearly all the Americans my wife had seen up to that time had been in the movies.

The way she puts it, the American clergyman "sounded like a gangster."

She has since had a chance to hear sermons with every intonation from Gaelic to German, because there is practically nothing else but sermons on the radio here on Sunday mornings. A few more sermons would probably do her some good, though. They would do me good too.

Perhaps the delusion works in reverse as well. If my wife thought all clergymen were Englishmen, there may be some people in remote missionary places who think all Englishmen are clergymen—which is far from the truth.

I can think of another example, but I must preface it by saying that I don't wish to insult any nation.

Young soldiers abroad like to celebrate on leave, and the better paid they are, the better celebration they can afford. Americans in England were better paid than most of the troops. They got a reputation as good-time Charlies.

Just after the war I was sitting in a bar with a rather critical English friend. We noticed three gay and blowsy girls wearing heavy make-up, giggling loudly and showing quite a stretch of leg.

"Who are those fellas with them?" my friend asked. "Aha! I thought so. They're Americans. Trust the Americans."

"Come to think of it," I said, "everybody in here but you and me is an American."

We looked at each other and roared with laughter. Until then we had forgotten we were in Seattle.

Hungary Ordering Anti-Reds to Death

VIENNA, Austria, July 6 (AP)—Two United States diplomatic service officials expelled from Budapest today said thousands of anti-Communist Hungarians are being deported from Budapest and sent off to certain death.

The two said they had witnessed Nazi-style deportations of whole families from their homes on 24-hour notice.

The expelled diplomats themselves were given 24 hours to get across the Austrian frontier. They made it with 40 minutes to spare.

They are Albert W. Sherer, Jr., a legation secretary, and Ruth Tryon, head of the U.S. information service in Budapest before the Hungarian Red government cracked down on it early this week.

Air Force Shifts Its Top Men In Expansion Program Move

OTTAWA, July 6 (CP)—The air force announced shifts for three of its top men today in a move dictated by the big expansion program now under way.

Headquarters announced it has cancelled plans to post Air Vice-Marshal F. R. Miller, 43, a native of Kamloops, B.C., to the national defense college and that he will become vice-chief of the air staff, the No. 2 man in the service.

The changes are effective August 1. The main result is that A. V. M. Miller won't be heading for the defense school at Kingston but will be kept here to work in direction of operations, training and air plans. His job is to boss one big division which used to be two.

The fact Air Vice-Marshal Miller—the rank is equivalent to the army's major-general—won't be allowed to leave headquarters is one sign of the tempo of the present expansion program.

Trail Observes Golden Jubilee As Silver City

TRAIL, B.C., July 6 (CP)—This smelter city, once the jackpot in a fabulous game of stud poker, this week celebrates its golden jubilee.

Trail, heart of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company operations, was known until last year as "Smoky City." The chamber of commerce, finally got the 11,500 residents to refer to it as the "Silver City."

"Silver City" is appropriate enough, for Consolidated now supplies 8 per cent of the world's silver.

The first white man to set foot on the site of Trail was David Thompson, who mapped the Columbia River in 1806.

In 1890, gold was found seven miles from Trail. Trail became a docking point for river steamers. In 1894, it was swept away by a flood.

Which brings up that famous game of stud poker. The townsite then was owned by three men—E. S. Topping, F. Augustus Heinze, and A. E. Humphreys.

They decided to divide the lots. They tried of pulling slips out of a hat and produced a deck of cards. Humphreys won the pot—most of the city of Trail.

Saanich Driver Pays $35 Fine In Police Court

John Henry Thwaites, R.R. 4, Saanich, pleaded guilty to a careless driving charge in city police court yesterday, and was fined $35.

Peter Hartnell, 1124 May, pleaded not guilty to parking a truck on the wrong side of the street and was remanded to today.

City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison said he would remand the charge and check with the R.C.M.P. on ownership of the truck.

Through communication by rail is now available from Cape Town to Port Francqui in the Lower Congo, 3,300 miles.

Finland's largest cotton mill at Tampere, founded a century ago, has built an annex with 3,500 automatic looms.

West Tries to Pierce India's Isolationism

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
A.P. News Analyst

The western world is angling for reluctant India's partnership in the front against imperialist Communism.

The United States is reported considering the replacement of Roy Henderson, veteran career diplomat, as ambassador to New Delhi in the hope of getting someone in closer to Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

Britain, of course, has the additional motive of ensuring against any Indian tendency to pull out of the British Commonwealth, a tendency which might be promoted by neutralism.

All members of the anti-Communist coalition want India's co-operation for what it means in the prospective strength of a rapidly developing large people, for leadership in the rest of Asia, and for vital strategic purposes in case of war.

WOOD—They are all being held at arm's length by Nehru, who has been wooed from right and left as the key figure of Asia.

Nehru all alone has taken a position of neutrality. And he seems to represent, in this respect, the great mass of Indian opinion. It is noticeable that his chief political foes in the New People's Party also urge strict neutrality in the cold war.

Nehru, however, has left the impression in the west that India would be in the right place in case of outright Russian aggression.

Recent statements by Nehru, however, suggest strongly that he would rather not be the key figure of Asia and become too involved. And also that he intends to be neutral in war as well as in cold war.

His statements are close to the attitude adopted by the United States before Germany unleashed her submarine warfare in the First World War. They involve lessons which it seems each country must learn for itself as it is drawn from isolation into the current of world affairs.

But they leave dim hope that, so long as Nehru and his thinking are dominant, India is going to play any real role in the world-wide defense against Communist imperialism unless she is directly attacked.

Hand-Me-Downs Slated For Airing—If Needed

REGINA, July 6 (CP)—Saskatchewan's newly-appointed lieutenant-governor will wear viceregal hand-me-downs when state occasions call for a Windsor uniform.

Lieut.-Gov. William J. Patterson, sworn in two days ago said today he will seek to use during his term of office the goldbraided uniform worn previously by two of the province's lieutenant-governors.

The outfit, including a three-cornered hat and a sword, is owned by Richard E. Motherwell, secretary to agriculture minister J. G. Gardiner. Mr. Motherwell's grandfather had it tailored for him in 1911 when he represented Saskatchewan at the coronation of King George V.

At today's prices, it would cost about $2,000 to buy a new outfit.

Mr. Motherwell said the new appointee is welcome to use the outfit, previously worn by the late lieut.-gov. R. J. M. Parker and the late Dr. J. M. Ulrich, Mr. Patterson's predecessor.

"I'm particularly interested in eventually retaining the sword," Mr. Motherwell said. "The suit would scarcely last long, even if it remained in my closets on the farm."

The elder Motherwell was federal minister of agriculture in an early Mackenzie King cabinet. He died in 1943.

Nab Prowler In Palace

LONDON, July 6 (AP)—A man found prowling inside Buckingham Palace fled to a garden and was nabbed by British police before dawn today.

He was removed to a mental institution to await a sanity hearing.

Police said a woman member of the palace staff spotted the intruder, who managed to get into the building despite elaborate security precautions set up since a sailor climbed through a palace window last October.

The woman called guards, who found the intruder lurking in the shrubbery. The arrested man's name was not disclosed.

The Queen and Princess Margaret were at the palace. The King is convalescing at Windsor Castle.

U.S. Ends Concessions To Russia

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—

The United States has served notice on Russia and four satellites it is cancelling all American tariff concessions on goods they ship to the United States.

This action, was dictated by Congress, along with a future ban on importation of most furs from Russia and Communist China.

What effect the removal of tariff concessions will have is not determined today. Officials generally were skeptical that there would be any great change.

It was granted that since the Russians have a government trade monopoly they will continue shipments, even at higher costs, if they want the dollars the goods would bring.

In another action disclosed today by the State Department, the U.S. sent two more notes demanding that Russia stop stalling on its overdue $11,000,000,000 lend-lease account and return immediately 672 U.S. naval vessels lent to the Soviets during the Second World War.

Turkish Unit Gets Citation

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA,

July 6 (INS)—The Turkish Brigade was presented with the American Presidential Unit Citation today in recognition of its fighting advance at Kumyanggang.

This advance sparked the beginning of the Allied advance in late January.

The action mentioned in the citation included one of the war's bloodiest bayonet battles when the Turks charged a Chinese-held hill, killing more than 200 Reds with bayonets and small arms.

U.S. Government Moves To Control All Industry

WASHINGTON, July 6 (INS)

(Exclusive).—The government moved today to place industry under complete federal control, while officials said construction of schools, hospitals, factories and other large buildings will have to be cut almost across the board.

The National Production Authority ordered manufacturers of automobiles, refrigerators, home appliances and other consumer goods to apply for the materials they will need in October, November and December.

These producers do not receive N.P.A. materials allocations now but are expected to be brought under a controlled materials plan in October.

Production officials reported the shortage of structural and plate steel is the most critical of all times.

TIGHTER REIN

As a result, stricter controls will be placed on large structures including schools, factories and hospitals.

N.P.A. called building industry officials to a Washington meeting Tuesday to discuss the entire question.

They will discuss a proposed regulation to remove an eight-

From Fear To Freedom

For those facing fear and trouble, the door of Truth is open today as never before, and man-made measurements of hope and health can no longer shut it.

A great book, the Christian Science textbook

SCIENCE AND HEALTH WITH KEY TO THE SCRIPTURES by Mary Baker Eddy

is clearly explaining the inspiring truth and thereby opening the way to freedom.

In a plain way it is showing how the Bible promises can be made practical in daily life. It shows what real freedom is and how it can be won.

Many are turning today to this great book, stepping thankfully through the door of promise into their God-given heritage of freedom. It may be read, borrowed or bought at

The Cost of Government

PUBLIC expenditures running into figures which used to be associated only with astronomy have dulled perception of their meaning in relation to individual income. It has remained for the Canadian Senate's finance committee to show in simple terms what government is costing all of us, and how much every new imposition adds to the cost of living and thereby discourages the personal saving, on which a sound national economy is built.

In its report to parliament, the Senate committee states that at present rate of public spending one out of every three dollars earned by the average Canadian goes to pay for government at the various levels. Put another way, this means that a four-month period in every year is worked solely to pay tax bills. The committee reaches its conclusion by relating budgeted expenditures of $5,000,000,000 by federal, provincial and municipal governments to a net national estimated at $16,000,000,000. In doing so it concedes that the largest part of these expenditures is for purposes of defense and cannot be avoided in the state of the world today, but at the same time it warns in the strongest terms against the danger to the economic stability of the country of treating the public purse as a widow's crust.

"As a result of this heavy load of taxation, combined with the high standard of living which we are endeavoring to maintain as a people," the report says, "the volume of savings out of which new development must take place is shrinking in an alarming way. The stern necessity rests upon governments and individual Canadian citizens in these dangerous days . . . to economize in their expenditures. The people must be encouraged to build up their savings."

The Senate has performed an important service in keeping with the reasons for its existence in drawing attention thus to the tremendous burden of taxation under which the country is laboring. Its report and the hard statistical facts of its appendices should be taken to heart by every governmental body in Canada.

Air Raids Really Are Unpleasant

THE UPSETTING effect of pseudo enemy air raids on an unsuspecting public was illustrated this week in Baltimore, where near-panic swamped some people who thought the alarm was the real thing. Certainly this type of civil defense practise is the kind of procedure that is bound to startle.

Canadian civil defense authorities apparently disagree with such tactics for they have been at pains not to shock any nerves or suggest that the real thing might indeed be an alarming experience. So hesitant are they about pushing the unpleasant, in fact, that they bend over backwards in order not to hurry things along.

On the other hand the thought occurs that panic might more readily occur when people are wholly ignorant as to what steps to take should emergency arise suddenly, and to date that is precisely the unenviable position that Canadians are in. Nor does any known experience teach that an aggressor sends word beforehand that he is coming.

Clean Beaches Are Attractive

CLEAN beaches in any area are an indication of good civic husbandry. Where they occur it is proof of intelligent public opinion backed by progressive civic leadership, both working to the same desirable end. Unfortunately, with 12 major beaches in the close-in urban area, Greater Victoria has not yet reached the point where it can boast about the state of its public beaches. Quite to the contrary, as recent news photographs of carelessly littered strands have shown. The suggestion that civic prosecution should follow such careless disposal of picnic and other refuse where it clashes with health regulation is a good one, because in the main it is the public that carries litter to the beach.

There is simply no excuse for the picnic party that leaves broken bottles, cartons with spoiling food, jaggedly opened tin cans and such dangerous material in the place which it found swept clean by the last tide. That is merely to spoil the spot for the next picnic party, to say nothing of children's accidents with cut glass, the attraction of flies and vermin and the rest of it. People do not ordinarily act that way in their homes; why should they do so at the beach? Common courtesy suggests that each individual lives up to his responsibility in this regard.

The other face of the same coin clearly is municipal obligation. Victoria city has not yet solved its garbage disposal problem. Only complete incineration will make any noticeable impression on today's volume of collected waste. Beyond that, sooner or later the whole municipal area will have to face the fact that salt water sewage disposal is obsolete. In older and more experienced countries, with far larger populations, sewage farms have been in operation for many years. So there is the long range outlook, and in it are obligations for both public and corporations alike. Meanwhile, the careless strewing of litter can be stopped.

BOULDER ON HIGHWAY

Sir,—It is often said that in a democracy it is the failure of the people to bring to the attention of those in power and control which is responsible for a continuation of errors in administration when they occur. This involves an accident costing $100 and loss of working time. A boulder rolled down from the side of the Hope-Princeton Highway damaged the writer's car, and held the writer and one member of his staff up for 12 hours. At the point where the accident occurred there were no road signs nor were there any for six miles prior to the point. But had there been road signs the suggestion might well be taken by a motorist that the continental highway was in a sense permanently unsafe and anyone traveling over it did so at their own risk.

Is not that a matter for public attention? . . .

SAANICH IRRIGATION

Sir,—I read of the trials, tribulations, frustration, unfulfilled pledges, etc., experienced by our M.L.A., Arthur Ash. For myself I was gratified to read of his efforts. I told him in my small way, as a landowner trying to grow a few fruit trees; inability to get water, everything more or less a failure. Why?

I note also Mr. Oldfield's "heart-breaking." The account is not only pathetic, it is a disgrace to our politicians making promises they never intend to keep. There should be something done about misrepresentation, for many a man has been sentenced for much less.

Why did Luther Burbank of horticultural fame turn away from the Saanich Peninsula? Because there was no water. Had the powers that be said, "Sure, we will have an irrigation system here. You go ahead and we will see you get water," this peninsula would have been a paradise.

If Mr. Oldfield wants to get up a petition, I will see that it is well circulated in my district.

Since writing above, the Sunday Colonist has the remarks by the minister of municipal affairs: "Irrigation system up to farmers themselves"; that the surveys had already been made. Yet Mr. Ash says that was the first word he had of their completion. Why should it be a complicated problem when in the early days Elk Lake supplied the wants of Victoria, until it was about 50,000 of a population. Why go to Sooke when Elk Lake could be used; if necessary deepen the lake. Sooke watershed then could be left to the needs of Victoria.

Again, our first hazards are such that no one, once they learn of the water shortage in the lower peninsula, will bother to settle here.

PRICEWAGE SPIRAL

Sir,—I was glad to see the letter from G. Sandford in The Colonist, July 1, re wages and costs; especially with regard to natural resources, which should be the common property of all people on earth—present and future. Instead of which, these resources are being exploited by individuals and corporations, aided by governments, for their own selfish profit. While Mr. Sandford holds labor responsible for the serious inflationary circle, it seems to me employers and corporations are equally to blame, because they will not take any loss or any lessening of profit.

On the contrary, they manage to increase profits every time labor gains an increase in wages, by increasing their prices so as to more than cover the increase forced from them by the union leaders.

All increased cost of whatever kind is simply passed on to the consumer, so that the present economic set-up results in making the rich man richer, the union man no better off and the poor man poorer, such as old-age pensioners and those with low, fixed, incomes, insufficient for a decent living standard.

The principal enemies to our democracy, it seems to me, are greed in uncontrolled private enterprise, where it seems to be the rule to charge all the traffic will bear and unconcern, which is selfishness, in that it does not care what suffering it causes to the poorer citizens by its fantastic demands for wage increase, thus keeping the inflationary wheel spinning faster and faster.

"Let's keep an eye on the job."

Good Reading

By FRANK KELLEY

IT is meaty, this well-balanced book entitled "Report of the Land Service for the year ended December 31, 1950." The well-compiled volume covering some branches of provincial government activity contains a lot of information and should make good reading for British Columbians as well as outsiders interested in the province as a going concern; and further, in my opinion, might prove of considerable value in giving high school pupils some close-ups of the province's terrain and the methods employed by the administration in dealing with its land assets and liabilities.

The land service includes surveys and mapping service, topographic surveys, water rights branch, coal, petroleum and natural gas controls, geographic division, dyking commission, Southern Okanagan lands project, university endowment lands, land settlement board and mail and file branch.

All these divisions or branches, one concludes, are directed by experts who might correctly be said, without anything in the way of overstatement, to have a wide knowledge of their respective functions.

Should there be an occasion when I would want some particular information concerning any particular part of British Columbia's 300,000-odd square miles, it would be sought through the experts who have been engaged surveying and mapping the province's physical features year after year. One finds their reports most interesting and informative, accompanied, as some of them are, by camera shots and graphs.

Chiefs of all the land service divisions tell about their work. These include N. C. Stewart, director of surveys and mapping; G. S. Andrews, recently appointed surveyor-general, who reports as assistant director of surveys and mapping; A. G. Slocum, chief of topographic surveys; W. Sutherland, land utilization and research; H. E. Whyte, inspector of land division; W. Hall, air-survey division; Phillip Monckton, land surveyor division; R. T. Wright, supervisor of air survey flying operations; W. H. Hutchinson, chief of geographic division; A. G. Campbell, R. Thistlethwaite and C. H. New, who report on their work of establishing boundaries between B.C. and the Yukon, B.C. and Alberta, B.C. and Northwest Territories, respectively; A. G. Pollard, triangulation survey in the Clearwater Survey area.

Exploring this latest publication of the land service, one cannot help but compare it with, for instance, a copy of the "Report of the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works" for, say, the year 1930. I happen to have a copy of that vintage. It fills some 32 pages of bare statistics and closely tabulated reports of road work and government buildings carried out in various districts. The 1950 report makes up a sizable book of 252 pages. In addition to a number of excellent maps, and speaks highly concerning the standard of work produced by the King's printer, Don McDiarmid and his staff of make-up men, printers and binders.

Altogether the current report of the land service is a credit to Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands and forests and his assistant, Mr. George P. Melrose, deputy minister of lands. At the same time, to this sideline anyway, it might be money well spent if the Department of Lands and Forests could have a lecturer familiar with the picture visit high schools throughout the province at intervals and instruct the maturing idea in what B.C. has to offer away from the cities. Next best thing would be to make a school book out of it.

Reporting From Ottawa

THE AMENDMENT to the Judges Act which gives 298 jurists in the exchequer and provincial courts 20 per cent increases in salaries was put through parliament late in the session partly for a curious reason.

That was to induce some judges to retire. As one cabinet minister admitted privately, a half-dozen judges were believed to be holding back their resignations in the expectation that judges' salaries would be increased. By staying on the bench until after salaries were boosted, they could ensure that they'd benefit by a similar 20 per cent increase in their retirement pensions.

These are judges who have been alling—many for a long time—but who were loath to give up their big-paying jobs. Now that pensions as well as salaries have been increased, the government hopes they will be less reluctant to step down and make room for younger men who can handle the work.

If the government had shelved the bill until the fall, as some M.P.'s urged it to do, there would have been merely a further delay in retirements and new appointments.

Chummy again: Newfoundland Premier Joe Smallwood and Newfoundland's federal cabinet minister, State Secretary Bradley. After being at loggerheads for nearly two years, they made up when Bradley flew to St. John's a few weeks ago. It took them until 4 a.m. to smooth over their grievances against each other.

Liberal again: J. H. Rousseau, the crippled septuagenarian who ran as an independent Liberal candidate, has been accepted into the Liberal fold. He made his peace with the Liberal organization in his riding, and was welcomed to the Liberal caucus of M.P.'s at Ottawa four days before the session ended.

Postponed: The junket of M.P.'s to the West Coast which Arthur Lalng (Lib., Vancouver South) had hoped to lead next month has been put off for a year. Reason is that B.C. Premier Byron Johnson doesn't want the M.P.'s there this year because it might embarrass him in his present political difficulties. Johnson heads a coalition government which is rapidly drifting towards a breakup into its Liberal and Progressive Conservative components.

Ingenuous out: Constitutional experts deride the government for taking refuge behind the oath of cabinet secrecy when it refused to disclose the "cabinet directive" under which Transport Minister Chevrier acted to exempt the Ming Sung ships from provisions of the Shipping Act. The argument of council secrecy isn't valid, they say, because anything done in council may be revealed with the Crown's permission, and the Crown acts on the advice of the prime minister. So the government's refusal to tell Progressive Conservative leader George Drew what really happened in cabinet on the Ming Sung matter amounted to admission that "we won't advise the Crown to give us the necessary permission to tell you."

Counting chickens: Ralph Manbank, who resigned as M.P. for Winnipeg South Centre to accept a Manitoba judgeship, may be wondering if he acted prematurely. For two months, instead of being on the bench, he's been on the beach—the beach of his island summer place in the Lake of the Woods, waiting for Mr. Justice Major to retire and make room for him.

Meat for Canadians

(From The Edmonton Journal)

WHEN Canadians are forced to pay fantastically high prices for meat, because producers in the United States have kept their animals on the home ranch in an effort to wreck government price controls, the Canadian government should act in the interests of Canadian consumers. And the action the government should take is imposition of an embargo on the export of beef cattle to the United States, whether alive or processed.

Ever since the federal authorities lifted restrictions on export of livestock to the United States some two years ago, the price of beef in Canada has been rising steadily. Such quantities were being sold to American buyers that it was predicted in 1949 that a serious shortage of livestock would develop in the Dominion.

But selling at a good price in a foreign market goes too far when it prices most meats right out of the reach of the home consumer. And it is particularly objectionable when, as is the case at present, the heavy buying by American packing houses is a result of United States farmers refusing to sell their own cattle, in an effort to break down efforts by their own government to bring meat prices in that country down to a reasonable level.

If meat prices in Canada do not begin to drop at once, and sharply, Ottawa should give serious consideration to the needs of Canadians, placing them before those of American consumers.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

IT is pitiful to see some of the summer resort areas becoming so built up and subdivided as to amount to nothing more than city suburbs. The first comes to these sylvan retreats had in mind the escape from their fellow man. Most summer resorts are now probably noisier than any comparable area of a city residential district; and there is less than half the privacy one can be sure of at home in town.

Every summer resort boasts its aristocracy, who can remember back when there weren't more than ten cabins on the lake, most of them out of sight and sound of each other, around points, or in bays. The only enjoyment of these old-timers is in bewailing the intrusion of strangers, who want to juke-box the place to death.

One of my friends is a born trouble-maker. We were driving through a well-known summer resort region last week when we saw a comfortable old cottage, obviously of long standing, and doubtless belonging to one of these summer resort aristocrats. It was surrounded by a modern wire fence. On the fence was a large sign, "Keep Out." A little farther along with another sign, "Beware of Dog." On a pine tree near the one end of the property was nailed a board, "No Trespassers," and at the other end, on another tree, "Private Property."

My friend bade me halt the car. He got out, walked back to the gate and opened it. No dog assailed him. He strode up to the cottage door and loudly hammered its antique knocker. An indignant citizen opened to him.

"I just want you to know," said my friend, loudly, "that under no circumstances would I enter your premises, I certainly will keep out. Nothing in the world would induce me to visit such a place as this."

And he whirled and marched down and back to the car, leaving an utterly speechless aristocrat slowly closing his door.

Sunspots

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Spots on the sun's face, like those large enough to be visible through plain dark glasses recently, should be relatively few in the months just ahead. That could be good news for U.N. forces fighting in Korea.

What have sunspots to do with U.N. success against Asia's Communists? Scientists have found sunspots to be closely related to "magnetic storms," which can and often do disrupt radio, telephone and telegraph transmission for hours on end, says the National Geographic Society. Since U.N. armies make greater military use of these communication methods than the Communists, they are more inconvenienced when the magnetic storms render their signaling unreliable.

Through decades of observation, science has also learned that sunspots wax and wane in frequency of occurrence through a cycle of slightly more than 11 years. They reached a peak in 1948-49 and are now receding. The fact that the Second World War was fought during a time of minimum sunspots played a part in winning that war.

Dr. Carl W. Gartlein, physicist directing a National Geographic Society-Cornell University study of aurora or "northern lights" since 1938, describes magnetic storms caused by sunspots in this way:

Picture gigantic streams of electrified particles spouting forth from the sun and speeding millions of miles into space like jets of water issuing from a rotating lawn sprinkler. Occasionally one of the streams catches the earth in its path, and then for hours or days the planet is drenched with the shower of electrified particles.

Sunspots are gigantic whirlpools or cyclones in the molten or gaseous surface of the sun, and are accompanied by flame-like flare-ups of hot gases from the sun's surface. There is reason to believe, Dr. Gartlein notes, that the streams of particles are shot forth from the sunspots by the pressure of the sun's tremendous light.

Moving at 1,000 miles per second, the streams of electrified particles take about 24 hours to travel from the sun to the earth. Colliding with the earth's magnetic field, they disturb the layers of the ionosphere, 50 to 250 miles above the earth, which normally reflect radio signals and enable them to travel long distances.

These streams from the sunspots also upset the normal magnetic field where it runs through the earth itself, causing the "scrambling" of telegraph and teletype messages.

With the Classics

"Nature, That Framed Us"

Nature, that fram'd us for four elements Warring within our breast for regiment. Doth teach us all to have aspiring minds: Our souls, whose faculties can comprehend—

The wondrous architecture of the world, And measure every wandering planet's course.

Still climbing after knowledge infinite, And always moving as the restless spheres, Will us to wear ourselves and never rest.

Until we reach the ripest fruit of all, That perfect bliss and sole felicity, The sweet fruition of an earthly crown.

World News Review

By KRITH M. SMITH
Colonist Telegraph Editor
(From AP, CP, INS, Reuters)

Traditionally neutral Switzerland, says a dispatch from Pusan, Korea, may have a major role in carrying out the terms of any negotiated truce in Korea.

One of the toughest problems of the Kaesong parley will be the composition of a neutral commission to inspect troop dispositions on both sides and make sure that the truce terms are carried out—an inspection sure to be demanded by both sides.

Since in this case a United Nations representative is unlikely to prove acceptable to the Reds, a neutral is the obvious choice to work with a representative of the Allies and the Reds. Hence, Switzerland appears the obvious choice.

France told the United Nations at Flushing Meadows yesterday that it has taken wider steps to stop the flow of strategic materials to Communist China and North Korea.

In Washington, Senator Morse (R.-Ore.) has demanded a probe of the pro-Nationalist-Chinese lobby and of fellow-travelers backing the Chinese Communist regime.

Junior News

Given an assist by their father, nine-year-old twin boys from Metiskow, Alta., held the spotlight at Northern Manitoba's first stampede in The Pas, Man. Dennis and Eddie Claggett won the wild-cow roping and milking contest.

A judge in Martinez, Calif., has remanded to the custody of his parents an 11-year-old boy who accidentally shot and killed a railwayman on May 31. The boy was target shooting with his father, when a bullet from his gun struck the trainman sitting in the cab of a switch engine.

Labor Front

A strong picket line at Prince Albert, thrown out by striking Saskatchewan Government Airways employees, is keeping all but two executives of the airline away from their offices. The strike was called to win reinstatement of a pilot dismissed for undisclosed reasons.

At Port Arthur, the reorganized Local 2786, Lumber and Sawmill Workers' Union, devoted its first meeting to an attack on the new Canadian Union of Woodworkers, formed several weeks ago by Local 2786's former executive following its suspension on a charge of using union funds to further Communist propaganda.

Production

The American Meat Institute in Chicago has reported that the supply of beef for consumers in normal-trade channels declined in the United States for the fifth successive week.

In Washington, the government announced it will revoke next week the ban preventing automobile manufacturers from putting spare tires on new cars, due to improvement in the rubber situation and a reduction in passenger car production.

Looking Ahead

Canadian Mines Minister George Pruthi in Ottawa appears to Canada's coal buyers to start stocking up on coal now, because of pressing demands on transportation and a growing demand for the black fuel.

In New York, the end of the shortage of cortisone, latest wonder drug, was indicated in announcement of a new way to make it from a poisonous Mexican yam. All cortisone now on the market is made from ox bile.

Canada, says an Ottawa dispatch, will ship enough arms for a division to Italy this month, according to the defense department.

People

Jakob A. Malik, who touched off the Korean truce talks with his June 23 cease-fire speech, sailed on the Swedish liner Gripsholm from New York yesterday for a summer vacation trip home to Russia.

In Quebec, Premier Duplessis told his weekly press conference he would meet Quebec's newspaper manufacturers Wednesday with the price of newsprint one of the major items on the agenda.

Rep. Velde (R. Ill.), a former member of the F.B.I. and now serving on the U.S. House Un-American Activities Committee, said in Washington he believes the eight Communist leaders being sought by the government have fled the U.S.—either to Canada or to Mexico.

Also in Washington, Senator

Can. (R. Wash.) said the Republicans have drafted a proposed report rapping the administration's China policy and holding that Gen. Douglas MacArthur was as the result of apparent political pressures.

Toronto Star Doubles Profit

TORONTO, July 6 (CP)—Toronto Daily Star, Ltd., and its affiliate, Toronto Star Weekly, Ltd., had net revenue for the year ended Sept. 30, 1950, of $1,189,633, compared with $532,961 in the preceding year.

Of the net revenue, $160,000 was paid in dividends and a capital grant of $650,000 was made to the Atkinson charitable foundation, to which The Star was bequeathed by its owner, J. E. Atkinson, who died in 1948.

The Star, in a newspaper story today accompanying the annual statement, states that the $650,000 grant brings The Star's total charitable donations for the year to more than $309,000; and total contributions from The Star and Atkinson estate to educational, religious, welfare and charitable organizations, to more than $4,000,000 between May, 1948, and Sept. 30, 1950.

Millionaire Jailed, Refuses to Name Red Bondsmen

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—Grim-faced and flushed, millionaire Frederick Vanderbilt Field was jailed for contempt today, but ordered released on bond a short time later.

The order for his release came too late for the posting of bond today, however, and meant he would spend at least one night in jail.

Field, whose imprisonment rather than expose the persons who put up $50,000 bail for four runaway Communist leaders.

A federal judge ordered him to jail for nine days, or until he clears himself of contempt by revealing the long-secret backers of the aid.

The immediate jailing of the 46-year-old "angel" of left-wing causes prevented him from attending an appeal later in the day before Judge Thomas Swan in New Haven, Conn.

After a two-hour closed hearing, the government announced that Judge Swan ordered Field freed on $10,000 bail pending a formal appeal of the contempt sentence.

Berserk Indian Delays Flight

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., July 6 (INS)—A berserk Indian today imperiled the lives of 59 persons aboard an airliner high above Mexico when he battled an armed guard and fellow passengers for 20 minutes. The pilot finally turned the plane back to Brownsville.

The Indian then successfully fought off border patrolmen for several minutes before he was subdued.

The delayed flight took off again for Mexico.

The Indian is being held for mental examination.

the financial-empire builder Cornelius Vanderbilt, had pointed throughout the bail hearing that to give the names might incriminate him.

Field is secretary of the Civil Rights Congress bail fund, which posted $260,000 bail for the 11 Red leaders convicted of conspiring to teach and to advocate forcible overthrow of the government.

Critics Praise

Barbara Ann

LONDON, July 6 (CP)—British critics were uniformly favorable today in their reviews of "Rose Marie on Ice," starring Canada's Barbara Ann Scott, which opened a second-season run last night.

Barbara Ann, playing the title role for the second straight year, was described by The Evening Star as "Demure and lovely."

When the 11 were called to begin prison terms last Monday, seven showed up, but four jumped their $80,000 bail and disappeared.

The four missing Communists are Henry Winston, the party's national organization chairman; Gus Hall, national secretary; Robert Thompson, New York state chairman; and Gilbert Green, Illinois chairman.

LONDON (CP)—A movie house in London's East Ham district is giving its ushers special instructions to deal with a group of rowdies who specialize in throwing fireworks during Sunday afternoon performances. The movie staff is being organized into special groups of trouble-shooters.

LONDON (CP)—Among exhibits at a show in London's Hayes district are some call-up papers dating back to the year 1763.

Rules Two-Room Kingdom

Small Prince Proud Of Younger Sister

The energy and mischief-seeking of a proper boy, angelic-appears to have been dropped from his relatives' vocabulary.
With something of a sigh the Queen recently reported: "We are kept quite lively by him. He is into everything."
Some sign of this was given the other day when the King presented new colors to the Coldstream Guards and his grandson watched from the sidelines.
"Why can't I go on the stairs with grandpa?" he demanded and he repeated this so successfully that the Queen took him on the stairs, where he stood by the King while the Guards he will one day command marched past.
He is the Mall's most ardent sightseer. He can already distinguish between the Life Guards and the Royal Horse Guards, which is more than most adults can do.
No procession passes without Prince Charles, perched on the wall of Clarence House, waving and making attempts to conduct the band.
Brave uniforms and martial music appeal to him. The day-nursery echoes with the memories of these sights, and some of the noises denote that the future King is hard at work on his latest musical composition, banging an old saucepan with a soup spoon.
But he is moving on to less rudimentary musical instruments. He now makes a fair pandemonium with a mouth organ and a small trumpet, with which he calls to arms a battalion of toy soldiers.
When the cuckoo clock in the nursery chills five, Prince Charles' golden hour has begun. Each evening about that time he goes down to his mother's drawing room.
The five-to-six play hour, which Princess Elizabeth herself had as a child, has become a tradition at Clarence House.
Games include the Prince's present passion—hide-and-seek. Stray visitors to Clarence House are sometimes met by an earnest small boy who says, "How d'ye do" with every sign of welcome and asks, "Will you play hide-and-seek with me?"
HE REJECTS
Alternating with this is football played to extremely liberal rules—but if a future king cannot make his own rules for a game, then where is the power of the monarchy?
Cooling-off times allow him to show his latest achievements. He recites.
Nowadays he can get through "Sing a song of sixpence" without prompting. This was the first public recitation made by the future King. He can also manage "Polly put the kettle on" and "Three blind mice." And he can dance a creditable Scottish reel.
Out door games range from hide-and-seek to mud pies.
"He can get as black as any boy of his age in a much shorter time" is the description of one who saw him cheerfully covered with large lumps of the English soil he is destined to rule.
Prince Charles has inherited his mother's love of animals. He is great friends with Sugar—a corgi puppy which practically lives in the nursery—and is a little hurt that Susan, Princess Elizabeth's own pet, seems to think the nursery beneath her aging dignity and spends most of her time downstairs.
At Royal Lodge he goes to see the aviary—he calls all birds "Billies" for no apparent reason. Although he will probably not begin to ride for another eighteen months he has met his own pony, Cloudy, a Shetland which is awaiting the day they take to the forest together.
Prince Charles has seen his first film, a news reel of his sister's christening.
He calls the Duke "Papa"—this seems to be a Royal Family tradition—and Princess Elizabeth "Mummy." He can say "Grandpa" and "Grandma" perfectly, but he has never had to face a difficulty of saying Great-grandma, for Queen Mary. He calls her "Gangan."
Princess Margaret he calls "Margot."
Pictures of Prince Charles are often taken when he is watching something of absorbing interest so that he looks intensely serious. But he is usually laughing. The world, he believes, is his friend.
And his parents hope to give him the normal, happy life of any son of well-to-do people, shielding him for as long as possible from the effects of his special position.

What of the future? Will Prince Charles go to school like his father, or be tutored privately at home like his mother? It seems to be generally accepted that he will have private tutors, but this is by no means certain.
Public education does not appear to have handicapped the Duke and he is believed to have a definite desire to see Prince Charles follow the sort of schooling he had.

Kewpie Starts Back On Revenge Trail By Down A's 9-2

I'll be back." The phrase first made famous by General MacArthur and later borrowed by Dick Barrett came back to haunt Victoria Athletics last night.

Barrett, unable, or unwilling, to do any pitching while he was managing the Victoria Athletics, cranked up his 43-year-old right arm at Yakima and found enough stamina and enough of his old-time ability to make good his first step on his avowed trail of revenge which is to make the A's sorry he is no longer with them.

STRIKES OUT SIX Barrett scattered eight hits, struck out six batters and walked none as he hurled the Bears to a 9-2 triumph in the opener of the four-game series.

Barrett was only in trouble in the third inning when the A's scored both their runs on four hits. With one out, Jimmy Robinson singled but was forced by Don Pries. Gene Thompson, Bill White and Hal Jackson followed with hard-hit singles in succession to drive in Pries and Thompson before Milt Martin grounded out to save Barrett from an early shower.

ERROR STARTS RALLY The Bears sewed up the contest in the second when an error by Pries touched off a six-run rally. Will Tiesiera drew a life on Pries' error and scored the first run as Dick Briskley followed with a triple, scoring on Don Richmond's single. Dick Steinberg beat out an intended sacrifice and Barrett hunted the runners along.

Richmond scored on Bill Andring's outfield fly. Hal Jacinto was hit by a pitched ball and Mike Baxes doubled to drive in Steinberg. Jerry Zuvela was intentionally walked to fill the bases, but Tiesiera grounded out.

JACKSON RELIEVES Although hit consistently, Briskley went along until the eighth, giving up single runs in the sixth, seventh and eighth. First baseman Hal Jackson came to the aid of the overworked Victoria mound staff in the eighth and retired the last two batters.

CAPIR TRIM TACOMA Bob Snyder posted his 17th victory as Vancouver Capitans trimmed Tacoma, 16-4. Tacoma manager Jim Brillheart protested the game on the grounds that Vancouver had more than the legal 17 men in uniform.

Two Salem errors in the seventh inning enabled Spokane Indians to edge the Senators, 4-3, and remain just four games behind the Caps.

Forest Closure Lifted

Closure of the Vancouver forest district, which included Vancouver Island, was lifted yesterday by Lands and Forests Minister F. T. Kenney.

Travellers again permitted in the wooded area may resume the normal work day instead of the early morning shift.

The closure was not lifted from the Saward forest north of Campbell River where travel permits are still required.

It was explained present improved weather conditions should be considered only as a temporary respite for the coast region.

REIMPOSED
An official of the B.C. Forest Service said if dry weather returned, the closure would be reimposed.

The forest service reported 19 fires still burning in the Vancouver forest district. All but two have been reduced to the fire line in the district.

Except for a blaze at Pender Harbor only partial control and a fire at Houston has been out of control, all the fires in the Vancouver district are controlled.

In the Campbell River area 40 men are mopping up 1,000 feet including the site of the big blaze in operations of the Elk River Timber Company.

Elsewhere in the province all fires burning are under control including two in the Fraser River forest district one at New Hazelton and another at Hazelton.

Report Filed On Bus Line By Auditors

Report of the auditors on financial records of the Vancouver Island Council Lines was given in the hands of the Public Utilities Commission yesterday.

Commission officials said the report must be studied before a decision can be reached regarding the hearing of a public hearing on the council lines' application for general increases in passenger and freight rates.

RATEPAYERS' PROTEST

A protest has been filed with the commission by the Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association since approval was made by the company.

The association claimed rates now being charged by the company are higher than comparable rates elsewhere.

The association has been asked to submit a brief to the commission containing grounds for its protest.

Hole-in-One Finals Today

Third hole-in-one in the Victoria City Club contest and carnival was made last night by Percy Easby, 108 Ebert.

Close behind was R. R. Smith, 1133 Johnson, with a chip shot 29 inches from the hole, only a yard from a hole of A. W. Renshaw, 3340 Oak.

Other contestants to sink awards were Victoria Golf Club professional Phil Taylor, Wednesday night, and eight-year-old Irene Rogers, Thursday.

Contest finals will start at 2 p.m. today.

Hospital Group Gets Pay Boost

DUNCAN, July 6.—The conciliation board which heard a dispute between the employees of King's Daughters' Hospital and the hospital board awarded an across the board pay increase of 10 per cent effective May 1, until December 31 of this year and a 12 per cent pay boost for the entire year of 1952 if the cost of living has not dropped three points below the 1950 at which it stood at May 1 this year.

Otherwise the 10 per cent increase prevails to the end of 1952. Based on the last financial statement the increase granted are expected to cost the hospital approximately $18,500 per month or about 70 cents per day in increase in cost for every patient cared for.

SUBSIDY NECESSARY
NANAIMO, July 6.—Only way to stop spiraling milk prices, apparently is by government subsidy to stabilize the price.

This was the conclusion which A. R. T. Wilson, city observer, drew from the recent milk board inquiry here. He reported on the hearing to council.

Sisters Greet New Member of Family

New baby is examined and beamed upon by members of Maxwell family, 3122 Rutledge, shortly after young Scott arrived home from hospital. At left, four-year-old Jill looks on seriously as sister,

Wendy, 7, tries to coax smile from latest member of family. Mrs. Maxwell, wife of Lieut. Cmdr. John Maxwell, H.M.C.S. Ontario, smiles at new son. (Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

With aid of koola bear brought home from Australia by father, Jill entertains new brother who is gravely contemplating years ahead of him. Young Scott, with the family, shortly faces a trip to Ottawa where Cmdr. Maxwell is going to a new appointment.

Shares Of Tax Listed

Island municipalities will receive a total of more than $1,000,000 as their share of the 3 per cent sales tax for the fiscal year ended March 31.

Final distribution for the last half of the year was announced yesterday by Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb.

In the fiscal year Victoria will have received a total of $614,390.

Total payments to other island municipalities during the year are: Oak Bay $121,982; Esquimalt $31,008; Saanich $28,219; Central Saanich $7,402; Alderboro $29,682; Courtenay $24,627; Comox $12,146; Duncan $34,131; Ladysmith $23,172; Nanaimo $78,418; Pender $20,000; Sechelt $10,000; Campbell River $2,117; Comox $4,153; Lake Cowichan $9,219; Parksville $4,305; Qualicum Beach $2,065.

TOTAL $5,500,000
The finance minister said municipalities throughout the province would receive a total of $5,511,343 in the fiscal year but not for the fiscal year.

The province distributed $4,000,000 among the municipalities in December 1950 as their share of sales tax revenue. The first half of the last fiscal year.

Municipalities received one-third of the sales tax receipts collected by the province. This amounted to $2,130,000 in the year ended March 31, 1951, compared with the $9,511,343 they are to receive to the end of March, 1951.

Total revenue received by the province from the sales tax was $28,000,000 in the year ending March 31, 1951, well above the government's estimated receipts of $24,000,000.

EXCEEDED ESTIMATES
In the year ended March 31, 1950, the province realized $24,625,370 from the sales tax compared with the $23,000,000 it estimated it would receive.

In his announcement, Mr. Anscomb declared that since the tax was first applied in July, 1948, there has been well over $22,000,000 paid to municipal governments, or roughly 10 per cent of the total of municipal budgets in the same period.

"With a total tax assessment in all municipalities of $622,000,000 in 1950, the distribution of the social security and municipal aid tax for 1950 has been the equivalent of more than 15 mills of the tax rate," stated the finance minister.

All present estimates of net sales were to be increased a very great amount, and the total of the tax for the fiscal year of 1951 is estimated to be $28,000,000.

Vancouver receives the largest share of sales tax receipts paid to municipalities. In the year ended March 31, 1951, the city will have received a total of $614,390.

Gruber Returns From Toronto

VICTORIA symphony conductor Hans Gruber returned to Victoria yesterday after a two-month holiday in Toronto with his family.

He will conduct a concert at the provincial summer school of education Tuesday and then leave for Vancouver where he will lead the Vancouver symphony in a Stanley Park concert July 15.

Mr. Gruber said he understood neither his own nor his family's schedule for the rest of the summer after the concert.

Vancouver Plans Layoff

City Could Not Release Married Women Clerks

Release of all married women working for the city of Victoria would deal the civil administration a severe blow, authorities said yesterday.

They were commenting on a report that Vancouver city council will release seven married women from its social service department. Reason for the decision was that the personnel committee wanted persons on the staff who are sure to remain. Married women, they found, quit without warning, disrupting business of the department.

City Hall officials here said there is an acute shortage of well-trained stenographers in Victoria. If married stenographers at City Hall were released they said, they would be difficult to replace.

There just doesn't seem to be enough suitable single girls available, said one official.

Others said there is a shortage of 900 welfare workers in Canada, "so naturally, married women must be hired."

In Vancouver one alderman said: "We must have someone on the staff who can be sure to remain. I don't think we can afford to get into the position where employees say when they are going to work and when they're going to take holidays. We must be able to carry on the business of the department."

As far as can be determined, there is no move afoot in Victoria to release married women.

Report New Query On Horsemeat Sale

ANOTHER Victoria man has shown interest in opening a horsemeat store. Edward S. Grupp, chief sanitary inspector, said yesterday if he could sell horsemeat in a butcher shop if he cleared out all his other meats. He was told it would be all right.

One Victorian has been given approval to open a shop on upper Douglas Street provided he installs suitable equipment. So far, though he has not turned up to buy a truck and horse and insists that city officials refrain from releasing his name.

Wages Average $47.95 a Week

Average weekly wages in Victoria, a report by the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, released yesterday, showed that the average wage on April 1 of this year was $47.95.

According to figures released yesterday by Trade and Industry Minister Louis H. St. Laurent, wages in Victoria on April 1 averaged $47.95 compared to a Vancouver average of $48.00.

On April 1, 1950, Victoria industrial workers were receiving an average of $44.51, while Vancouver workers got $44.95.

BELOW AVERAGE

Average wages in both cities were below the provincial average of $49.75 a week being paid on April 1 of this year. The average a year earlier was $49.04.

The cost-of-living index advanced from 164 points on April 1, 1950, to 181.8 on April 1, 1951.

Mr. St. Laurent reported that industrial activity in most industries continues to show advances over last year.

RETAIL SALES

"The dollar value of retail sales in British Columbia, unadjusted for price increases, showed a gain of 17.78 per cent in April over a year ago," stated Mr. St. Laurent. "Total sales for the first three months of 1951 were $1,212,213,000 compared with $1,028,213,000 in 1950."

Insulation Lack Blamed For Arena Floor Woes

Heaving of the northwest corner of the Memorial Arena floor could have been prevented when it was built by spending about $2,500 for extra insulation.

This was asserted last night by W. J. Hamilton, general manager of Jones Bros. and Hamilton, the firm which built the arena floor.

Hamilton said the firm poured the concrete for the arena floor, but the floor should have been insulated with a layer of insulation and a layer of concrete.

"Because of our recommendation," he said, "the floor would have cost $2,500 more."

B.C. Pay Settled; Cut in Staff Seen

The long dispute between the government and civil servants over wage increases was settled yesterday with a 10 per cent wage increase granted by the cabinet on the understanding that cuts are to be made in overstaffed departments.

The 10 per cent increase will be made on gross pay, which includes the 10 per cent cost-of-living bonus now being paid civil servants. Pay raises will be made up to a maximum of $20 per month.

The government has agreed to special measures over the $100 million for professional staff, such as doctors and teachers.

Increases are to be retroactive to April 1. Provincial Secretary W. T. Stewart, chairman of the cabinet special committee on wages, said the deal is over staff cuts.

He said the government had accepted a settlement which allows the Civil Service Commission to negotiate all departments with a view to weeding out unnecessary staff.

Regarding professional workers, the government service, Mr. Stewart said there existed a certain disparity between wages paid by the government and by private industry. It was the intention of the government to have the public service wages be in line with those in private industry.

COSTS $2,100,000
Mr. Stewart said the settlement for the professional staff, which includes a 10 per cent wage increase, will cost the provincial treasury an additional $2,100,000 for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1952.

Stewart provided for a reduction in the number of staff in the public service. He said the government would have to cut 1,000 jobs in the public service to save the $2,100,000.

Mr. Stewart said the settlement would have a major impact on the public service. He said the government would have to cut 1,000 jobs in the public service to save the $2,100,000.

Dates Set For Hearing On Protest

Hearings on the controversial question of lowering Battle Lake will open at 9 o'clock in the morning at the Victoria City Hall, at Courtenay, August 8. It was announced yesterday by Lands and Forests Minister F. T. Kenney.

Kenney was on the occasion of the opening of the B.C. Power Commission to develop additional hydroelectric power at Battle Lake on Campbell River by damming Battle Lake to create a storage reservoir.

Hearings will open at the Legislative Buildings in Victoria at 9:30 a.m. August 13 for the consideration of a plan to build a dam on Campbell River by damming Battle Lake to create a storage reservoir.

ALTERNATIVE PLAN
Instead of a large number of dams, the commission is considering a plan to build a dam on Campbell River by damming Battle Lake to create a storage reservoir.

It is expected a brief will be presented by the B.C. Power Commission, which engineers roads near Lower Battle Lake as a more practical and less costly site for a dam.

Hearings will be conducted by F. H. T. Smith, controller of provincial water rights.

The commission is engineering a consulting engineer to study the case of the hearing," said Mr. Hamilton, "but to any practical construction man, the answer is obvious."

The arena continuation met last night to study the problem. It was decided to await the report of the consulting engineer, G. H. Cam, before making any decision.

NO BLAME
Mr. Hamilton's views were borne out in a statement last night by J. Carl Pridgen, chairman of the commission.

"The arena floor was built by Lane and Hamilton according to specifications and no blame for the present trouble can be attached in any way to the contractors," he said.

Food Burns As Blaze Guts Garage

Fire in a garage used as a storehouse by the Shoal Bay Grocery, 469 Monterey, last night damaged an estimated $1,500 worth of groceries.

Oak Bay firemen who extinguished the blaze described the garage, valued at about $600, as almost a total loss and combined fire and water damage to the groceries as heavy.

Cause of the fire was unknown, but flames appeared to have spread from cartons of stored matches, firemen said.

SALMON CAUGHT BY TAIL
PARKVILLE, July 6.—Arnold Beaman, well-known Vancouver businessman, had an unusual experience while fishing off Parksville Bay this week. When he landed a large salmon, he found that the fish was firmly imbedded in the tail of the fish.

On the local scene, little change in the general employment situation was noted in the week ending July 5, according to the report from Victoria N.E.S. manager C. A. Mudge.

Demand for skilled workers was still strong but for general labor weaker as forest fire hazards released men from the camps and students sought summer jobs.

MORE REGISTERED
Total effect was a slight increase in the number of persons registered for employment, a reversal of the trend during the past few months when labor supplies in the province were hitting a new low.

A number of male students were still seeking summer jobs, the report said.

Vacancies for skilled men included jobs for sheet metal workers, car mechanics, radio technicians, seamen, loftsman, bricklayers, plumbers, asphalt rakers and taxi drivers.

Jobs as messmen and cooks in the army summer camps were also available for ex-servicemen.

In the women's section, heavy demand for domestic workers was going unmet as were requests for well-qualified stenographers.

ADULTS THREE
Charles Johnson, 304 Stewart Avenue, charged with stealing an electric clock valued at less than $25, pleaded guilty in Saanich police court yesterday and was remanded to July 7 for sentence.

CURRY RELAXED
Cooler weather and a promise of rain have brought about an easing of rubber-burning restrictions in the city and outlying municipalities—at least on a day-to-day basis. City and Saanich officials will grant unrestricted permits for one day only while Oak Bay will restrict one-day permits for incinerator fires.

Esquimalt will consider each application separately as it did during the worst of the hot weather.

DRIVER FINED
Paul C. W. Norton, 619 Monterey, was fined $100 on a careless driving charge yesterday in Oak Bay police court. Arthur Colasino, Gordon Road army camp, was fined $25 for driving without a current driver's license.

CHURCH CARNIVAL

Executive Opposes Phone Boost

Executive of the Union of B.C. Municipalities has agreed in principle to opposing the latest B.C. Telephone Co. application for an increase in rates, Mayor Percy George, president, said yesterday on his return from a Vancouver meeting.

The executive also endorsed in principle a plan for all affected municipalities to share in the cost of preparing a brief for presentation to the autumn sittings in the west of the Board of Transport Commissioners. An interim hearing has already been held at Ottawa.

Mayor George announced that George S. Mooney, executive director of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, and Seattle Mayor William Devin, president of the United States Congress of Mayors, have been invited to speak at the U.B.C.M. convention in October at Harrison Hot Springs.

Attending the U.B.C.M. executive meeting were Reeve Sol Mussalem, Maple Ridge, past president; Vernon Mayor T. R. Adams, first vice-president; Cranbrook Mayor R. E. Sang, second vice-president; and Nanaimo Mayor Earle C. Westwood, Surrey Mayor C. Schultz, Penticton Mayor W. A. Rathbun, North Vancouver Mayor F. R. Goldsworthy and Commissioner A. N. Lawrence, Mission City, all executive members. R. F. Sewell, secretary, also attended.

C.W.A.C. Post Filled

Capt. Kathleen Trudale, daughter of Mrs. C. Y. Weaver of Victoria, has been appointed Canadian Women's Army Corps staff officer for Western Command.

The first woman to join the active army for service in Western Command, Capt. Trudale will be stationed in Edmonton.

Public Officials in Favor

Revival of Airpark Feud Seen as Result of Offer

Further developments on a recent offer to buy the 57-acre Gordon Head airpark for use as an airport continue on the secret list, although some public officials favor the idea.

A Victoria Flying Club official said last week an offer of $18,000 had been made to the city for the property. Indications were that the bitter dispute, dropped in 1948 after a three-year battle involving the Saanich council and area residents, might be revived.

KERSEY
Councillor William Kersey, one of the main supporters of the plan at that time, said yesterday he still supports the idea.

"It's a shame that the opportunity to turn the area into an attractive and useful airpark was wasted," Mr. Kersey said, "but a majority of the Saanich people were against it."

He said he did not want to go against the wishes of the people, but that he could not help but favor such a plan "which would be a great benefit to Victoria."

New Process May End Mill Smoke

Gas produced from wood waste may ultimately help end Victoria's smoke nuisance and provide a new use for the tremendous volume of wood waste now being burnt by local mills.

The process, developed by the British Columbia Research Council, can produce gas for industrial use at a lower cost than oil.

A research council statement estimates that 200 pounds of dry waste wood will produce gas with a heat content of 1,000,000 British thermal units at an estimated cost of 29 cents, compared with 39 cents for oil with equal heat value.

CHARCOAL TOO
Charcoal can be produced as a by-product, up to 20 per cent of the weight of the wood used.

The new process was discussed at the annual meeting of the council in Vancouver last week.

Applications Being Taken For Benefits

A new supplementary benefit for unemployed war pensioners may now be applied for, according to officials of the veterans' affairs department.

Special forms will be available at all D.V.A. offices.

D.V.A. officials said, however, that they had not yet received forms at full particulars on qualifications. Married veterans receiving 45 per cent or higher war disability pensions, single men with 35 per cent or higher, unemployed because of war disability, may register for the new benefit. Married men are eligible for $40 a month, single men for $20.

Chaos Seen Result of New System Of Splitting Social Assistance Costs

The provincial government's new system of sharing social assistance costs with the municipalities—has resulted in chaos, Mayor Percy George, president of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, said yesterday on his return from an executive meeting in Vancouver.

He hinted that social assistance costs will be one of the hottest issues at the U.B.C.M. annual meeting Oct. 8 to 11 at Harrison Hot Springs.

The membership will be asked to press the provincial government to revert to the old system under which the government paid 80 per cent and the municipalities 20 per cent of social assistance costs. In effect, the municipalities will be asked to endorse the executive's stand.

The executive has met the cabinet twice recently on the subject.

The chaos in bookkeeping, said Mayor George.

All municipalities will be circularized before the convention so delegates will be able to have a full discussion on the issue, said the mayor.

He stressed that the municipalities are pleased that social assistance allowances were increased, but object only to the method of sharing the costs.

Abolition of the original 80-20 split has been estimated to cost the combined municipalities about $250,000. The municipalities also are objecting to what has been termed the high-handed action of the government in instituting the change. They complain that the government rushed them with the alternative.

Almost a new vessel following extensive alterations by men of Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd., the ferry Cy Peck is now back in service between Swartz Bay, near Sidney and Fulford Harbor on Salt Spring Island.

During the 21 working days the ferry was at the V.M.D. Bay Street plant, she had her entire superstructure changed, and her engine replaced. The midship "island" was rearranged to allow for the carrying of 16 cars—four more than before.

Her new and more powerful engine enables the ferry to travel between her two ports of call in about half an hour. She makes six trips daily.

The Cy Peck is operated by the Gulf Islands Ferry Company, headed by Gavin Moutat of Salt Spring Island.

Watercolors of the Arctic, painted by Winnifred Petchy, wife of the bishop of the Arctic, will be on display at the Art Centre gallery beginning Tuesday.

The paintings show the life and social customs of the Eskimo.

Gallery hours are from 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. each day except Sunday and Monday.

Extensive travel is in store for J. E. Cooper, 1062 Queens Avenue.

Wednesday he will leave Victoria for the head offices of Lions International in Chicago to become associated with the world-wide service club for what might be a two-year assignment in the organizational field.

Owner of a restaurant on Fort Street, Mr. Cooper has been a member of the Victoria Lions Club for eight years.

Where Mr. Cooper will go in connection with Lions Club organization is not yet certain, but Lions International is hoping to boost from 12 to 100 the number of Lions Clubs in Great Britain. He thinks he may be posted to England for some time.

Because of this assignment Mr. Cooper had to resign as co-chairman of this year's Community Chest campaign here.

Arctic Art Display Tuesday at Gallery

Watercolors of the Arctic, painted by Winnifred Petchy, wife of the bishop of the Arctic, will be on display at the Art Centre gallery beginning Tuesday.

The paintings show the life and social customs of the Eskimo.

Gallery hours are from 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. each day except Sunday and Monday.

Extensive travel is in store for J. E. Cooper, 1062 Queens Avenue.

Wednesday he will leave Victoria for the head offices of Lions International in Chicago to become associated with the world-wide service club for what might be a two-year assignment in the organizational field.

Owner of a restaurant on Fort Street, Mr. Cooper has been a member of the Victoria Lions Club for eight years.

Where Mr. Cooper will go in connection with Lions Club organization is not yet certain, but Lions International is hoping to boost from 12 to 100 the number of Lions Clubs in Great Britain. He thinks he may be posted to England for some time.

Because of this assignment Mr. Cooper had to resign as co-chairman of this year's Community Chest campaign here.

B.C. Fishing Industry Aroused Over Report Prime Grounds to Be Bombing-Practise Target

MARINE AND TRAVEL NEWS

The British Columbia fishing industry is up in arms over a recent announcement that the R.C.A.F. was reopening a bombing practise range off the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Used extensively during the war years, the range is a triangle off Long Beach between Tofino and Ucluelet.

Fishermen and several large fishing companies, it is reported, are preparing a formal protest.

The range, one fisherman explained, is a prime ground where commercial fishermen get large spring and coho catches. He thought the R.C.A.F. could establish a range north of the present area "away from the choice fishing grounds."

The year's best salmon catches have come from the range area, one fishing firm official said yesterday.

SOUTHERN CRUISE

Members of the reserve navy training division H.M.C.S. Malahat will leave Victoria tonight at 7.30 on a two-week cruise to Santa Barbara, Calif. Capt. Ronald Jackson, commanding officer, announced yesterday.

The trip will be made aboard the training ship Sault Ste. Marie. On return the division will take up headquarters in Moresby House, which was used during the war as a W.R.C.N.S. barracks.

RETIRED

Two veterans of the transport department lighthouse service of British Columbia have retired.

J. D. Harrison, formerly of the Fiddle Reef lighthouse, off Oak Bay, is on his way to Amphitrite Point light on the west coast to succeed C. Fletcher. The latter has retired after 23 years' service.

Taking over the Fiddle Reef light is C. Lambert of Victoria. R. M. Lally, keeper of the lighthouse at Estevan has also retired. He started with the department in 1923. He will be succeeded by Ernest Noel, Victoria.

TENDER AWAY

The lighthouse tender Estevan left Victoria yesterday morning on a two-week assignment which will take her to numerous ports along the west coast of Vancouver Island.

LIGHT OUT

Mariners are advised that the light on the dolphin at the north end of Ballantyne Fill, Vancouver Harbor, is not burning. It will be attended to as soon as possible.

It is also reported heavy anti-aircraft firing practise will be carried out from Albert Head July 10, 11 and 12 between 1.30 and 3 p.m. Practise will be conducted seaward in an arm between Race Rocks and Brothie Ledge, with a danger radius of 22,000 yards.

LONDON (CP).—Two high-speed elevators that travel 800 feet a minute will be installed at Hampstead, the deepest station of the London Underground Railway.

CLINTON—IN THE HEART OF THE CARIBOO

A bustling, friendly town, Clinton is the long portage with the most stupendous sights in B.C. Beyond Clinton on the old high road is the Chasm, one of the between walls of painted rock.

Clinton is a wonderful spot for a restful vacation. Accommodation and facilities are excellent, good fishing and hunting may be enjoyed in the surrounding areas. Many, many places of extreme interest are to be seen in and around Clinton, places with well-preserved links with the romantic and storied past.

For a long time Clinton was called the Junction, as it was here the new road through the Fraser joined the original road from Lillooet. Clinton was important in the early days as the junction of the long portage with the wagon road.

Clinton has a population of 3,100, and is at an altitude of 3,100 feet.

BULLETIN No. 5

CIVIL DEFENCE

LEARN—AND LIVE

FIRST AID

Following an enemy attack there will be many situations in which the public will have to act on their own initiative.

First Aid is a primary requirement . . . Lack of knowledge can result in confusion . . . Knowledge of what to do can, if acted upon quickly, save lives.

Casualties are caused mainly by blast—falling debris—shock—burns—radiation.

Explosion of an atomic bomb will greatly increase the known effects of high explosive weapons and introduce radiation problems.

... After an atomic explosion do not take chances with food and water in open containers.

... Do not start rumours.

IMMEDIATE FIRST AID

SHOCK—Lay patient flat on ground—wrap in blankets—apply hot water bottles—give tea or coffee with sugar—NO alcohol.

BURNS—First—treat as for shock; no hot water bottle to burned areas. Cover burned area with dry sterile dressings—no greasy substance. Give plenty of fluids to drink. Get medical aid as soon as possible. Do not remove clothing—Do not break blisters—Do not try to clean burns.

Complete rest is essential.

WOUNDS AND BRUISES—Stop bleeding . . . cover with sterile dressing—treat as for shock. Get in touch with First Aid Post as soon as possible.

HYSTERIA—People suffering from shock are likely to behave in a dazed manner. They must be controlled at once and kept apart from others as panic can easily spread. If possible move to a quiet place.

Watch for another bulletin in next week's newspaper.
